

TO THE ARTISTS OF ARTUS

WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT FROM US

- Everyone keeps the rights to their own work, unless bought by the company outright. We believe in each artist having ultimate control over their own work. And even when buying the work outright, the artist's name would always be part of the work, always being known as their work.
- Artus exists to support each artist with whatever they need in any way possible. Costs of art/writing supplies, research materials and inspirational outings will be covered.
- Artus will handle advertising, sales and any interaction with the public that the artist would like handled.
- Artists have the freedom to pursue whichever projects they wish, and will have the support of Artus in doing so.
- Artus will have offers for projects to work on that in no way need to be accepted. Only to be accepted if the individual artist is interested in the work.
- Each artist will have a contract best suited for their needs, which can be revisited and revised as each artist deems necessary.

- Artists will be connected with one another for any desired collaborations.
- Artists have no obligation to have any public persona, and ARTUS can speak entirely on their behalf if they decide.

WHAT WE EXPECT FROM YOU

- Share with us your needs, artistic desires and goals so we may help you achieve them.
- Do your best, but never feel obligated or pressured to produce for the sake of company profits.
- Take the best care of yourself you can and keep your needs in mind. Artus exists to help you feel safe and cared for while you work on your projects.

We encourage everyone to talk to us about what they need in order to have a safe and relatively stress free work (and home) environment. Artus will do everything it can to ensure this and resolve any problems as they arise -- it be assistance with bills, support with addiction and illness, finding ideal work spaces, etc. Artus will either financially assist or help the artist access necessary programs in their area to help.

This company is meant to work with the Artists' best interests in mind.

Everything is always negotiable.

We are here to work for the Artist.
